Subject: Manufacturing site addition for Thermo Scientific Nunc cell culture products

Dear Customer,

We are pleased to inform you that we are expanding our manufacturing capabilities for Thermo Scientific Nunc cell culture products and have begun to produce them at our state-of-the-art facility in Suzhou, China, which opened last year. Because of the extensive manufacturing capacity at our newer facility in Suzhou, we will no longer produce these products at our Shanghai facility. The addition of manufacturing at Suzhou site will significantly expand production capacity and reduce lead times, especially for customers in the Asia-Pacific region.

The Suzhou site manufactures many Thermo Scientific laboratory equipment and consumable products, and we have replicated the same manufacturing designs for tooling, resins, raw materials and equipment used to make these products in other parts of the world. The fit, form and function of the products produced in Suzhou will be the same as those you receive today from other facilities.

The following list shows all of the Thermo Scientific Nunc cell culture products now produced in Suzhou:
